REVIEW OF OCTOBER—COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL EVENTS.

In the political world the Presidential election absorbed an increasing amount of attention during October and in the financial and economic world the frenzied speculation on the Stock Exchange, with the huge and growing absorption of bank credit which it involved, commanded hardly less notice attended by no little nervousness and some concern regarding the ultimate outcome. The Presidential campaign waxed hot, more so perhaps than in any such contest in recent history. Governor Alfred E. Smith, the Democratic nominee, conducted an exceedingly aggressive campaign, delivering addresses in nearly all the leading parts of the country, not excepting prominent Republican strongholds like Philadelphia in the State of Pennsylvania, and Herbert Hoover, the Republican candidate, on his part was no less active. Both the candidates were received with the greatest enthusiasm, wherever they appeared, invariably attracting large and demonstrative crowds, correspondingly raising party hopes and leading to most confident claims on the part of the party managers.

Neither party was lacking in the necessary funds with which to prosecute a most vigorous contest. According to the report filed by the Treasurer of the Democratic National Committee with the House and Senate Committees on Campaign Expenditures, contributions to the Democrats up to Nov. 1 aggregated $4,088,933, this including two loans of $500,000 each obtained from the County Trust Company of New York, while disbursements were $4,008,023. A similar statement filed by the Treasurer of the Republican National Committee showed aggregate contributions to that party's funds up to the same date of $4,911,744, with disbursements of $4,774,361.

The degree of interest felt in the election found forceful illustration in a wonderful increase in the registration of the voting population. This increase was of such magnitude as to be almost startling. In view of Governor Smith's appealing personality, his record as a political campaigner, and his stand on the prohibition amendment, with his espousal of the cause of the "wets," whereby he excited the vigorous antagonism of nearly all the rural sections throughout the country, though he gained the support of a considerable part of the population of the larger cities and perhaps also by reason of his religious belief, he being of the Catholic faith, a considerable increase in registration had been expected, but the actual increase surpassed anything anyone had deemed within reasonable probability. In the different boroughs of New York City the registration reached a total of 2,029,601 against only 1,500,113 in the Presidential election of 1924, being an increase of 529,488, or fully one-third. A particularly striking feature everywhere, not only in New York City, but throughout the State of New York, and in fact the whole country, was the intense interest in the election taken by the women, whose convictions on the prohibition question are admittedly stronger and more pronounced than those of the men. The New York City figures as published show the women voters and the men separately and these attest the big increase in the registration of the women. In 1924 the number of women on the list was 543,936; for 1928 the number is 806,721, representing an addition of 262,785, or over 48%. The registration of men increased from 956,177 in 1924 to 1,222,880, this being an addition of 266,703, or not quite 28%.

With the total registration in the Greater City, over half a million in excess of that of 1924, the City authorities found it necessary to extend the facilities for receiving the votes on Election Day, existing facilities being clearly inadequate for the purpose. In many of the districts registration was so heavy that it became necessary to divide the districts up. This in turn made necessary the installation of additional voting machines. But it was found that with a considerable number in reserve there were, nevertheless, not enough machines to go around and the time was too short to acquire additional machines. The upshot was that in three of the boroughs, namely, the Bronx, Queens and Richmond, embracing over one-third the total number of registrants, recourse had to be had to the old method of voting, and it was no easy task to make the arrangements for the printing of the old-time ballots for the purpose. Outside of New York City, in the State at large, the registration lists were also greatly extended, even if in a reduced ratio. Figures compiled by Robert Moses, Secretary of State at Albany, showed that registration outside the Greater New York had reached 2,855,762 as against 2,388,009 in 1924, the addition here thus falling a little short of half a million, reaching in exact figures 467,753, or not quite 20%. For the whole State, including New York City, the names on the voting register increased almost a full million, the number rising from 3,887,554 in 1924 to 4,885,276 in 1928, an addition of over 25%.

The Associated Press went still further and in a tabulation which appeared in the morning papers of Monday, Oct. 29, undertook to show the registration of the entire country, classified according to States. This made it plain that what had happened in New York City and New York State was simply typical of what had been going on all over the country, from one end to the other, and that in many of the States the ratios of increase had exceeded the ratio of our own State. The Associated Press figures compared the actual vote for 1924 with the registration for 1928 which tended to exaggerate the increase, since all those registered do not necessarily vote. Nevertheless, such increases as a registration in California of 2,313,816 in 1928 against a vote of only 1,281,778 in that State in 1924, and a registry list in Pennsylvania of 3,943,000 against an actual vote in 1924 of 2,144,852 were extremely significant. Altogether, the Associated Press tabulations showed total registration for the whole country of 43,084,257 in comparison with an actual vote in 1924 of 29,091,493, an increase of over 14,000,000 or 48%. In a statement prepared for the Associated Press, William Tyler Page, Clerk of the House of Representatives, who for many years has made a close study of election figures, estimated that the potential number of voters "may not exceed 45,000,000" and that the total vote would be about 38,000,000, but even this would be an increase of 9,000,000 over 1924. The Associated Press account pointed out that one of the surprising results noted in 1928 was what has already been noted above, namely, the tremendous increase in the number of women voters qualifying and said that political leaders and State officials generally were agreed that the women would hold the balance of power, every State having shown "a startling jump in female registration." In the larger cities it was estimated that women would cast between 35 and 45% of the total vote, but that the percentage would probably be smaller in towns and rural sections. Both parties claimed to feel encouraged by the increased registration, the Democrats because of the larger urban registration and the Republicans because of the larger rural registration. Now that the actual result is known, and Mr. Hoover is found to have carried the election, it is interesting to put on record here the odds prevailing on the two candidates in the political betting or wagers at the close of the month. The New York "Herald Tribune" in its issue of Saturday morning, Oct. 27, stated that "odds quoted by betting commissioners in Wall Street yesterday were 4 to 1 and 3½ to 1 in favor of Hoover. Large brokerage houses were said to have nearly a quarter of a million dollars on hand to be placed on Smith at 4 to 1, while Hoover backers were holding out for odds of 3½ to 1." On Nov. 5, the eve of the election, the odds were 5 to 1. The odds that Smith would carry New York State were 6 to 5.

The most important event of the month in the campaign was perhaps Mr. Hoover's declaration made known on Oct. 27 of his intention if elected President to convene Congress in extra session after March 4 to bring about the enactment of legislation in the interest of the farmer in the event that the matter should not be disposed of at the coming December session of the old Congress. In his declaration Mr. Hoover said:

"There are a number of questions, particularly agricultural relief, which urgently require solution, and should not be delayed for a whole year. It is a most urgent economic problem.

"I should hope it can be dealt with at the regular session this fall, and thus a special session be avoided. If, however, that cannot be accomplished, I would, if elected, not allow the matter to drift and would of necessity call an extra session so as to secure early constructive action."

Mr. Hoover's announcement came after conferences by him with Governor McMullen of Nebraska and Senator Borah.

With reference to the discussion of the subject of brokers' loans this constituted the foremost and almost the exclusive topic in the proceedings of the annual convention of the American Bankers' Association at Philadelphia on the opening days of the month. Several of the speeches spoke with the utmost frankness on the question and made it plain by their remarks that the questions at issue were deemed of vital concern to the country. The magnitude of these brokers' loans on stock and bond collateral is shown under a separate heading in a subsequent part of this article. One of the speakers was Colonel Leonard P. Ayres, the Vice-President of the Cleveland Trust Company, who read a carefully prepared paper before the State Bank Division. Referring to the speculation on the Stock Exchange, he expressed the view that "stocks are now selling on expectation rather than on realization" and added: "All the experience of the past points clearly to the conclusion that prices are too high, and must come down. . . . No conclusion is more safe than that the speculative markets in their present mood would promptly sop up for stock margins any additional credit that the Reserve System might make available, if it should attempt to ease off the present credit stringency." The convention's own formal resolutions on the question set forth that, in the judgment of the assembled bankers, the situation was "one which will undoubtedly correct itself as times goes on, until the banking system of the country again has a proper control over the surplus funds of the country."

THE OCTOBER FINANCING OF THE U. S. TREASURY.

Further illustration was furnished during this month of the tense state of the money market in the October program of financing of the United States Government. The rate of interest in an offering of Treasury certificates of indebtedness had to be further raised in face of the fact that the rate in the previous month's offering of certificates was already very high and had as a consequence excited wide comment as we noted in our narrative for that month. The Treasury Department had given advance notice of a contemplated offering of United States securities of some kind in an announcement made by Mr. Mellon, the Secretary of the Treasury, on Sept. 26. Mr. Mellon then stated that the banks of the country had been advised through the Federal Reserve Banks that there would be an offering of Treasury securities early in October. That new issue, it was averred, would complete the program of financing occasioned by the maturity of the Third Liberty Loan on Sept. 15. Experience had demonstrated, it was declared, that in the case of the long-term war issues which had been widely distributed maturing bonds were not all presented on the maturity date, but on the contrary, a substantial amount came dribbling in slowly for redemption for a considerable itme after the maturity date. In the case of the Third Liberty Loan issue, $955,000,000 was still outstanding on Sept. 14, the day before the redemption date; only $475,000,000 had been presented on Sept. 15, and up to and including Sept. 25, the aggregate of the redemptions had been $733,000,000. Bearing in mind this slow process of redemption, the Treasury had planned its September financing accordingly. In order to avoid borrowing in excess of actual needs, and to save unnecessary interest charges, the Treasury on Sept. 15, in arranging its usual quarterly financing, made provision only for the redemption of so much of the Third Liberty Loan bonds as it might reasonably be expected would be presented for payment prior to Oct. 15. The contemplated October issue of securities, which in amount, it was pointed out, would be substantially smaller than the Sept. 15 offering, was intended to furnish, it was stated, the necessary funds to redeem the remainder of the Third Liberty Loan bonds still outstanding, as well as to provide for the financial needs of the Government up to Dec. 15 1928.

The October offering of Treasury certificates represented the carrying out of the intentions thus previously announced. The offering consisted of certificates running for 11 months and what mainly arrested attention was the rate of interest which the Secretary deemed it incumbent to offer in order to ensure the success of the loan. In September the Secretary had fixed the rate at 4½% on a nine months issue of certificates, this being the highest rate contained in any offering of Treasury certificates since March, 1923. The Secretary then invited tenders for $525,000,000 "or thereabouts," and after receiving subscriptions aggregating $1,020,034,400, made allotments to a total of $549,615,900. In his October offering, Mr. Mellon raised the rate to 4¾% on an offering of $300,000,000 "or thereabouts." No certificates bearing so high a rate as 4¾% had been put out by the Government since 1921. As noted in our review of the events of September, seven months before, in March 1928, the rate of interest was only 3¼% on a nine months issue of certificates for $200,000,000 and 3⅜ on an issue running for a year for $360,000,000, while in November 1927 the Secretary offered $400,000,000 of seven months certificates at 3⅛%.

The matter of chief moment in connection with the raising of the rate of interest to 4¾% was the fact that the Government was paying off long-time loans issued during the war and bearing only 4¼% interest and now in its borrowings to raise the money needed to complete the redemption of such loans was obliged to pay one-half of one per cent. more, or 4¾%, on new issues of securities put out to obtain the requisite cash for the purpose. The Secretary had, however, previously indicated that the Treasury would be governed entirely by the state of the money market. He had made it plain only two months before that the Government was asking no favors and was prepared to adjust rates of interest on any new borrowings in accord with money market conditions. It will be recalled that during August a proposal came to the Federal Reserve Board from one of the Clearing House Associations "recommending preferential discount rates by Federal Reserve Banks on collateral notes secured by Government obligations, the discount rate in each case to be the same as that borne by the security." One of the reasons urged by the Clearing House referred to, in support of the proposal of a preferential rate, was the "forthcoming financing by the Treasury Department." But this allusion to Treasury financing did not make the slightest appeal to the Secretary who had been delegated to speak on behalf of the Federal Reserve Board. Mr. Mellon, it may be remembered, replied with some spirit, saying: "Under normal peace-time conditions the Treasury should and does pay the ordinary market rates for money, the same as any other borrowers. Moreover, the credit of the United States Government is so good that there is no occasion whatsoever for attempting by artificial means to place United States Government securities in a favored position, as compared with commerce, industry and agriculture."

In inviting on Oct. 7 subscriptions to the new issue of Treasury certificates of indebtedness, dated and bearing interest from Oct. 15 1928, and due Sept. 15 1929, the offering was put at $300,000,000 "or thereabouts," and Secretary Mellon explained that about $150,000,000 of Third Liberty Loan bonds which had become payable on Sept. 15 1928, were still outstanding, and furthermore that also about $150,000,000 in interest payments on the public debt would become payable on Oct. 15 1928, making $300,000,000 to be provided. The new issue, together with cash on hand, it was stated, would provide for the Treasury's requirements up to Dec. 15 1928. Subscription books for the new certificates were opened on Monday, Oct. 8, and were closed at the close of business on Oct. 9. Total subscriptions reached $838,700,000 and the allotments amounted to $308,807,500.

THE COURSE OF TRADE AND BUSINESS.

The noteworthy feature about the course of trade and business during October, on the eve of a Presidential election, was that it proceeded entirely without regard to the election and did not seem in the least disturbed as to the outcome, one way or the other. Whether this was because the mercantile community was indifferent as to the outcome or felt certain, in advance, of the actual result is not material. The fact itself is the point of importance, and deserves noting because of the sharp contrast with the experience during the preceding quadrennial election in 1924, when Senator La Follette, running as an independent candidate for President, on a radical platform, injected some new issues into the campaign and when, as we showed in our narrative for September, business suffered a severe slump, the setback dating back to the early part of the year and growing in intensity in the late summer of that year. In 1928 there has not been the slightest trace of unsettlement, but on the contrary activity has been fully maintained, especially in the so-called key industries, more particularly the iron and steel trade. The textile trades, and especially cotton goods, which all through 1928 have been in anything but a flourishing state, have been the exception that proves the rule. The coal trade, which likewise during the greater part of 1928 had suffered a setback, gave marked indication of a revival during October under the continued activity of the steel and automobile trades which naturally carried with it a growing demand for fuel. Coal production was also given a stimulus by the resumption of mining in many districts of the Middle West, where there had been prolonged idleness because of the insistence of the United Mine Workers on the maintenance of the Jacksonville high scale of wages which rendered competition with the non-union mines working at a much lower scale of wages out of the question, but adherence to which high scale had now been abandoned.

The trade papers in their reports from week to week presented a glowing picture of the activity and prosperity of the steel trade. Thus the "Iron Age" in its issue of Oct. 25 stated that "the fundamental strength of the iron and steel markets is emphasized by continued advances in primary materials. Prices of pig iron, scrap and coke have made fresh gains, giving added support to an already strong situation in finished steel." It was also stated that "the pressure of steel producers to increase output has magnified the scarcity of scrap, and a consequent driving of blast furnaces to obtain a compensating increase in pig iron tonnage has created extra demands for furnace coke." Heavy melting scrap at Pittsburgh, it was reported, had advanced another 25c. to $18 a ton, an increase of $4 a ton since the third week in July and the highest price since Sept. 1926. Furnace coke at Connellsville, after rising 10c. a ton the previous week, had gone up another 15c. to $2.90. The pig iron market, it was pointed out, was also feeling the effects of the enlarged needs of the steel companies. Their refusal to sell their surplus supplies had created a shortage of basic iron in the valleys. The same authority said that prices for bars were especially strong in Eastern markets where many buyers faced the necessity of paying 2c. at Pittsburgh, contrasted with 1.90c. to 1.95c. paid by contract customers for the current quarter. "At Chicago specifications again exceed shipments, after a noticeable drop a week ago, and new business is slightly above the average of the past twelve weeks. Chicago prices for plates, shapes and bars are stronger, with 2c. rapidly giving way to 2.10c., an advance of $2 a ton." Steel production still held close to 90% of capacity. For the first time in many months the "Iron Age" pig iron composite price was higher than at the corresponding date of the previous year. In its issue of Nov. 1, carrying the reports to the end of October, the "Age's" story was of the same favorable character, the "Age" saying that impending purchases of railroad equipment and seasonal orders for rails, a sustained demand for pig iron that had forced prices to still higher levels and further signs of strength in finished material, particularly bars, were encouraging features of the iron and steel market, though the steady advance in heavy steel scrap at Pittsburgh, which began in July, had been interrupted by a 25c. a ton decline. Steel production, however, held at close to 90%, and pig iron output had reached a record rate for the year. Estimates of pig iron production for October indicated a total of 3,373,000 gross tons for the 31 days, or 108,800 tons per day. The daily output exceeded that of September by 6.5% and was the highest in 17 months. It was also the best average for October reached in any year except 1918 and 1916. It was added that finished steel prices were strong in most centers, with steel bars well established at 1.95c. Pittsburgh or $1 a ton above the recent minimum. Despite occasional shading on black sheets in the East, most reports indicated a firm sheet market, with advances of $2 to $3 a ton for next quarter a probability. The upward swing of pig iron prices had not yet been halted. In the Chicago, Valley and Buffalo markets all grades had gone up 50c. a ton. At Philadelphia, basic pig iron had risen 25c. a ton on a 10,000-ton sale. As indicating the improving price situation, the "Iron Age" made the composite price of pig iron Oct. 30 $18.25 a ton as against $17.04 on July 24 and comparing with $17.54 twelve months before. The composite price of finished steel was reported at 2.369c. a pound, against 2.362c. a month before and comparing with 2,293c. at the corresponding date in 1927.

But improvement was not confined to the steel and automobile industries. The copper trade which had manifested growing strength for many months showed a new burst of activity which was reflected in rapid advances in prices, following the steady previous appreciation in the market value of the metal. An urgent and active demand for copper both on domestic and foreign account, along with a strong statistical position, furnished the explanation. The latter part of the month the price of copper rose with great rapidity, successive advances carrying the price of Lake copper at New York up to 16¼c. as against 15¼c. at the beginning of the month. Electrolytic copper rose from 15c. to 15¾c. The Anaconda Copper Mining Co. and other companies operating in Butte, Montana, district, made a wage advance of 10% efective Oct. 1 to all classes of mine, mill and smelter labor. This is the same advance as that made by the Arizona copper mining companies as announced in our narrative for the month of September and as a matter of fact the 10% advance in wages became common in the copper mining region everywhere. Tin prices again showed more or less weakness, though fluctuating more or less from day to day. The statistical position of the metal was more or less bearish. For one thing, stocks in British warehouses were reported the largest since 1925, while production of tin plate fell off. As against 49.95c. Oct. 1 the price of tin in New York was down to 48.50c. Oct. 9 and after recovering to 49.95 Oct. 18, developed renewed weakness and closed at 49.37½c. Oct. 31. The price of lead at New York remained unchanged throughout the month at 6.50c.

As stated further above, coal mining gave indications of greater activity after a long period of reduced output, when soft coal production ran smaller even than during the strike period in 1927. For the week ended Oct. 6 the production of soft coal in the United States, according to the Bureau of Mines, was 11,039,000 tons, against 10,286,000 tons in 1927; for the week ended Oct. 13, 11,274,000 tons against 10,550,000 tons; for the week ended Oct. 20 10,832,000 tons against 10,285,000 tons and for the week ended Oct. 27 11,249,000 tons against 10,019,000 tons. Besides the resumption of mining in Illinois, reported in September, advices from Des Moines, Iowa at the end of that month announced that a wage scale for Iowa coal miners based on a minimum daily wage of $5.80 had been agreed upon by representatives of miners and operators, laying the foundation for peace after a year and a half of strife. Although the daily wage is 30c. less than the basis of the new Illinois scale, it was pointed out that the Iowa scale was considered equivalent to it, because of a smaller reduction on the "yardage" and "dead work" rates. In Illinois the rate for this work was reduced 20% from the Jacksonville scale, while the Iowa rate was reduced only 14%.

In the textile trades the important event was the termination of the strike of the operatives at New Bedford. On Oct. 1 four of the seven unions had voted down a compromise agreement which provided for a reduction in wages of only 5%, instead of the 10% reduction against which they had been striking, but on a new vote on Oct. 6 the seven unions composing the Textile Council voted to accept the 5% wage cut, coupled with an assurance that in case of any future reduction, 30 days' notice be given the operatives. Accordingly, work was resumed at the mills on Oct. 8, just 25 weeks after it had started. Some 16,000 out of more than 22,000 operatives thrown out of employment by the strike were back to work the latter part of the month. It took some time to start machinery after the long period of idleness and, moreover, the mills did not plan to work to full capacity because of the unsatisfactory condition of the cotton goods trade, which, however, began to show signs of improvement under the rigid policy of restricted production pursued by the mills throughout New England. An incidental effect of the lowering of the cut in wages from 10% to 5% at New Bedford was to bring a restoration of half the 10% cut that had been in force for quite a while at Fall River and other New England points. The maintenance of the high price which had been established for raw cotton helped measurably to improve the condition and prospects of the cotton goods trade, along with the curtailed output. In the early part of October prices tended lower, spot cotton here in New York declining from 19.45c. Oct. 1 to 19.05c. Oct. 6, but thereafter there was recovery.

The anxiously-awaited report of the Agricultural Department at Washington came on Monday, Oct. 8. It estimated the crop at 13,993,000 bales, against 14,439,000 bales a month earlier. This was a surprise, as most persons supposed that no great change would be shown in the estimate. The effect was to cause an advance of some 80 to 95 points in the futures market, though only about half the advance was retained to the close of the day. Later came an excellent trade demand for the staple and this led to a further stiffening of prices, though on the other hand, the Census report on consumption, which came on Oct. 15, showed that only 492,221 bales of lint cotton and 68,562 bales of linters had been consumed by the mills in the United States in September 1928 as against 627,784 bales of lint and 80,365 bales of linters in September 1927. As the month progressed, the impression spread that the crop might not prove to be much more than 13,500,000 bales.

The spot price on the New York Cotton Exchange on the day of the appearance of the Agricultural Bureau report, was marked up from 19.05c. to 19.45c. The next day it was reduced to 19.25c., thereafter rising erratically and touching 20.20c. Oct. 17 and again Oct. 22, but reacting to 19.40c.

Oct. 26, and being 19.45c. Oct. 31. Print cloths at Fall River after the advance in September were further raised from 6¼ to 6⅜ on Oct. 5 for 28-in. 64 x 60 cloths. In the woolen trade an event of the month was the opening by the American Woolen Co. on Oct. 17 of the remainder of its women's wear spring fabrics. These attracted attention by reason of the wide variety of designs and colors, it covering 64 new and original styles and seemed to promise a restoration of feminine favor for worsted fabrics, from which it had been diverted in recent years, and a more cheerful sentiment developed accordingly. Being entirely new lines, no price comparisons with the past could be made. The silk market proved disappointing. Raw silk prices showed further recovery the early part of the month, but reacted the latter part; Japanese crack double extra (20-22 deniers) were quoted Oct. 31 at $5.05 against $4.85 @$4.90 Sept. 29; $4.75@$4.80 on Aug. 31 after having been quoted as low as $4.55@$4.70 the first half of that month; $5@$5.10 July 31; $4.90@$4.95 on June 30; $5.05@$5.10 on May 31; $5.30@$5.35 on both April 30 and March 31; $5.35@$5.40 on Feb. 20; $5.15@$5.20 on Jan. 31 and $5.05 @$5.10 on Dec. 31 1927. The rubber market awaited the end of the Stevenson Restriction policy on Nov. 1. Fluctuations in prices were not important and ribbed smoked sheets for spot delivery in the New York market Oct. 31 were 18½c. bid and 18¾c. asked, against 18⅛ bid and 18⅜ asked Sept. 29; 18¾@18⅞ Aug. 31; 19⅛@19¼ July 31; 18¾@19c. June 30; 19½@19¾ May 31; 17@17½ April 30; 27@27¼c. March 31, and 41¼@41½c. at the beginning of the year. Automobile tire prices underwent their second downward adjustment of the year on Oct. 30 when the leading manufacturers simultaneously announced reductions ranging from 2½% to 7½% on the popular sizes of first, second and third grades. The first line tires were lowered 2½% to 5%, the Ford and Chevrolet sizes receiving the smaller reduction, and the balloons for the medium sized rims the 5% cut. The second line tires were lowered 5% to 7½% or to a price basis that is 17½ to 20% below the first line, as against a differential of 15% formerly. Second and third line tires lack the finished workmanship and crude rubber content of the first grades, and are usually competitive with mail order tires.

Grain prices reacted somewhat during October, after the previous big break, though the improvement in prices was not after all very great. In the case of wheat, the large visible supply, along with the present year's large crop both in the United States and in Canada constituted a depressing influence. The visible supply, according to the figures collected by the New York Produce Exchange, was reported as 133,224,000 bushels on Oct. 27, the largest on record, this comparing with 88,290,000 bushels on Oct. 29 1927. The December option for wheat at Chicago advanced from $1.16¼ on Oct. 1 to $1.21 on Oct. 8, then tumbled to $1.11¾ Oct. 22, but recovered to $1.18⅞ Oct. 27 on accumulating evidence that the market had been heavily oversold and closed Oct. 31 at $1.16⅛. The March option for wheat at Chicago advanced from $1.20½ Oct. 1 to $1.25¼ Oct. 3 and then dropped to $1.17 Oct. 22, with a recovery to $1.23⅛ Oct. 29 and the close Oct. 31 at $1.21. In the case of corn, the comparisons are much better. The December option for corn in Chicago moved up from 78¼c. Oct. 1 to 83¾c. Oct. 6, and after declining to 78c. Oct. 15, was back to 83⅜c. Oct. 19; it fluctuated more or less the remainder of the month and closed Oct. 31 at 82⅛c., against the opening price of 78¼c. Oct. 1. The March option for corn in Chicago advanced from 80¼c. Oct. 1 to 85¾c. Oct. 8, was back to 80½c. Oct. 15 and closed Oct. 31 at 84⅝c. In oats the fluctuations were much narrower and in the direction most of the month of a slightly higher level of values. December oats at Chicago closed at 43½c. Oct. 31 against an opening price Oct. 1 of 42⅝c. and March oats closed at 44⅛c. against the opening price of 43⅞c. Sugar prices continued weak and moved still lower. Cuban raw sugar sold down to 2 1/32c. Oct. 31 as against 2 5/32@2 3/16c. Sept. 30, while the wholesale price of refined sugar by all the leading refineries here in New York was quoted at 5.10c. Oct. 31, as against 5.40c. at the close of September. Much uncertainty continued to prevail with reference to the future course of coffee and buying, at least in the Brazil grades, proceeded entirely from hand to mouth. No. 7 Rio for spot delivery the first half of October sold up from 17½c. to 18c., this latter price being recorded Oct. 16, and a few days subsequently, after which there was again a gradual decline to 17½ bid and 17¾c. asked on Oct. 31.

NEW SECURITY ISSUES AND DIVIDENDS IN OCTOBER.

New security issues offered in this country during October on behalf of foreign Governments and business enterprises showed a large increase over the offerings of the preceding month. The largest and perhaps the most important piece of financing was the offering of $25,000,000 Republic of Peru 6% external sinking fund gold bonds. The second largest offering consisted of $19,900,000 the Oriental Development Co., Ltd., external loan 5½% gold debentures. Other large issues were: $10,000,000 Republic of Cuba 5½% serial certificates and $10,000,000 Ilseder Steel Corp. 6% gold mortgage bonds. THE STOCK MARKET DURING OCTOBER 1928.

The stock market during the greater part of October continued to move forward with the greatest vigor and enthusiasm, and many new high records for the year were established both in the matter of prices and in the volume of business done. Leaving out of consideration the Saturday half-holidays, the sales ran close to or in excess of 4,000,000 shares a day most of the time, and for the entire month came near reaching 100,000,000 shares, the exact amount of the transactions having been 98,831,435 shares. This established a new high record by a large margin, the best previous record for any month having been in September, the month immediately preceding, when the dealings aggregated 90,578,701 shares, and the high record prior to that time having been the previous March when the dealings aggregated 84,973,869 shares. In October, 1927, the sales were 50,289,449 shares and in October 1926, 40,437,374 shares. On the New York Curb Exchange likewise, the volume of business was of huge proportions, the total number of shares dealt in figuring up 25,455,216 shares, also a new high record for that Exchange, the next largest total having been that of the previous May when the sales footed up 24,246,931 shares. Though unrestrained buoyancy marked the course of the stock speculation throughout the month, and the tone was ever confident, there were nevertheles periods of weakness when prices reacted, and some occasions when the market tumbled badly, only to recover promptly the next day and often the next hour, after which the speculation for higher prices would proceed as serenely as before. The disposition on the part of the room traders, and also on the part of the general public, was to treat these downward plunges (for they were on occasions violent enough to be literally termed "plunges") as correctional and as eliminating (in the vernacular of the street)) "technical" points of weakness. This accomplished, the speculative community seemed to feel that the upward swing of prices might be resumed and indeed that it was wholly natural that it should be resumed. In the unqualified optimism which prevailed, nothing seemed to concern the speculative fraternity except these so-called "technical" points of weakness. Profit-taking often proceeded on a large scale, and occasioned temporary setbacks in the stocks involved, but such selling was readily absorbed, after which new buying in the same stocks would bring quick recovery. Such sales were often conducted under the cover of sharp upward movements in other groups of stocks or in new speculative favorites, previously inactive, and expressly selected for the purpose. This frequently caused more or less irregularity and gave the market at such times a ragged appearance, without, however, disturbing confidence or chilling speculative enthusiasm as a whole.

Irregularity and raggedness were particularly in evidence at the very beginning of the month. On Oct. 1, Oct. 2 and Oct. 3 the market appeared quite depressed. There were many influences that contributed to this early weakness. On Oct. 1, which was Monday, call money touched 10%. After the close of business the next day came the Stock Exchange monthly statement showing an increase in brokers' loans during September of almost phenomenal proportions. On Oct. 4 the market had to contend with a bearish statement issued by John J. Raskob. Mr. Raskob expressed the opinion that the level of stock prices was much too high, having regard for underlying conditions. Bearing in mind Mr. Raskob's former bullish pronouncements, especially the statement made by him in March that stocks of merit like General Motors, with which company he has been so long and so prominently identified, were entitled to sell at 15 times their earning power, his new attitude attracted a great deal of attention and was not without much influence. The immediate result was that the market suffered a further weak spell on Thursday morning, Oct. 4, but enjoyed a sharp rally later in the day, support appearing particularly in the case of General Motors shares and a further stimulating influence being a decline in the call loan rate on the Stock Exchange to 6½%. As a consequence, many of the net changes for the day showed substantial gains, General Motors closing at 215½ Oct. 4 against 213⅜ the close the previous day. On Friday, Oct. 5, the rally made further progress, notwithstanding the unfavorable character of the Federal Reserve returns issued after the close of business the previous evening. Call money now dropped to 6% and this infused new energy and spirit into the market. This rally, however, did not hold. On Saturday, Oct. 6, and Monday, Oct. 8, the market displayed marked evidences of demoralization, even though the tension in the money market relaxed somewhat—the call loan rate on the Stock Exchange ruling at 6½% and a few days later dropping to 6%. On the two days mentioned and also for a good part of Tuesday, Oct. 9, selling proceeded on an enormous scale, and the market had a decidedly weak appearance, prices moving rapidly towards lower levels, the declines often being quite large, though with the customary exceptions to the rule in the case of speculative favorites subject to clique manipulation which were further whirled up. But in the last hour on Oct. 9 just when it appeared as if the market would go completely to pieces, there came one of those complete transformations, which have been so often witnessed during the prolonged period of rising prices, and a pronounced rally took place, with the result that most of the early losses of the day were recovered. On Wednesday, Oct. 10, the rally assumed the dimensions of a boom and prices literally moved upward by leaps and bounds. The market in its upward course swept everything before it and displayed renewed buoyancy and enthusiasm. On Oct. 11 the upward movement was carried still further. After the Columbus Day holiday on Friday, Oct. 12, the buoyancy continued almost unchecked for a period of about two weeks, prices rising in the most violent fashion, and the upward movement continuing day after day almost uninterruptedly, notwithstanding selling proceeded on an enormous scale to realize profit. While liquidation was proceeding in one part of the market, large and rapid advances occurred in other parts. All the time the tone remained not only confident, but positively buoyant. On Friday, Oct. 26, there came another one of those sudden and spectacular manifestations of weakness previously witnessed from time to time. The market the day before (Thursday, Oct. 25) had displayed some weakness and irregularity as a result of extensive profit-taking sales and some bearish demonstrations induced by an advance in the call loan rates on the Stock Exchange in the afternoon to 8%. Now the market had to contend with a further large expansion in brokers' loans, as shown in the Federal Reserve return issued the night before. This led to renewed bearish demonstrations, besides which traders thought they detected selling by pools who had been active in advancing prices, but wanted to dispose of their holdings before Election Day came around. The result altogether was to bring about large and general declines in prices and in the closing hour it once more looked as if the bottom would completely drop out. The experience, however, on this occasion was the same as on so many previous occasions of the same kind. The next day (Saturday, Oct. 27) the market again showed a complete face-about, and prices climbed up as rapidly as they had the previous day tumbled down. The following Monday (Oct. 29) the bull forces again held complete sway. On Oct. 30 and Oct. 31 moderate recessions occurred on what was termed pre-election selling.

As in previous months, the high-priced specialties were star performers in the upward climb, many new stocks of that type coming into prominence, some of them which previously had been quiescent. The rise in many of these was spectacular in the extreme. But as a group, the copper stocks were hardly less distinguished in this respect, many of these also rising in a most sensational fashion. Thus Kennecott Copper rose from 98½ Oct. 9 to 124¾ Oct. 29 and closed Oct. 31 at 123⅜; Greene Cananea rose from 121¼ Oct. 3 to 144¾ Oct. 26 and closed at 137 Oct. 31; Anaconda Copper went from 79⅞ Oct. 3 to 89⅞ Oct. 31; Calumet & Hecla from 31½ Oct. 5 to 46½ Oct. 16, with the close Oct. 31 at 43; Calumet & Arizona from 110 Oct. 5 to 120½ Oct 24, with the close Oct. 31 at 114½; Cerro de Pasco from 95 Oct. 2 to 106⅛ Oct. 24, with the close Oct. 31 at 101⅞; Chile Copper from 50⅛ Oct. 3 to 60¾ Oct. 24, with the close 59¼; Granby Cons. from 64½ Oct. 8 to 79¼ Oct. 30, with the close 78; American Smelting & Refining on news of a split up of the shares on the basis of three new shares for one of old, spurted up from 238 Oct. 3 to 275¾ Oct. 29 and closed Oct. 31 at 267⅛. Federal Mining & Smelting advanced from 151 Oct. 3 to 161½ Oct. 17, and closed Oct. 31 at 155 bid; U. S. Smelt. & Refin. rose from 50⅜ Oct. 9 to 60¾ Oct. 30 and closed Oct. 31 at 57⅛. With the exception of Greene Cananea nearly all the copper stocks reached new high records for the year, the list including besides those already mentioned, Utah Copper, Butte Copper & Zinc, and Miama Copper. The reason for the rapid rise in the copper stocks was the repeated advances in the price of the metal as noted elsewhere, the quotation getting up to 16¼c.

Among the high-priced specialties which enjoyed sensational advances may be mentioned Western Union Telegraph, which jumped from 146¼ Oct. 1 to 201 Oct. 29 and closed Oct. 31 at 189. American Express belongs in the same class, having swung up from 215 Oct. 9 to 268½ Oct. 20, with the close Oct. 31 at 253. Another illustration is National Dairy Products which touched 119¾ Oct. 4, but declined to 108⅜ Oct. 9 and closed Oct. 31 at 113¼. Several of the department store stocks belong in the same category. R. H. Macy & Co. rose from 138½ Oct. 8 to 183⅞ Oct. 30 and closed Oct. 31 at 174: Best & Co. rose from 81⅜ Oct. 3 to 102 Oct. 29 and closed Oct. 31 at 96¼. Purity Bakeries came into prominence and rose from 122 Oct. 1 to 139⅜ Oct. 15, closing at 130. Kroeger Grocery & Baking advanced from 112⅝ Oct. 6 to 130 Oct. 22 and closed Oct. 31 at 123⅜. Among the speculative leaders, long prominent, Sears, Roebuck & Co advanced from 143½ Oct. 9 to 162¾ Oct. 15, and closed Oct. 31 at 152⅛: Montgomery Ward & Co jumped from 248½ Oct. 3 to 352 Oct. 20 and closed Oct. 31 at 339. Radio Corporation of America spurted up from 198½ Oct. 9 to 245 Oct. 29 and closed Oct. 31 at 231¼; Victor Talking Machine bounded up from 107¾ Oct. 3 to 145 Oct. 20, and closed Oct. 31 at 122½; International Nickel on reports of an exchange of the shares on a highly favored basis and on rumors of a merger with the Mond Nickle Co. Ltd. of London, ran up from 123¼ Oct. 1 to 191 Oct. 31. Allied Chemical & Dye spurted up from 196¾ Oct. 3 to 240¾ Oct. 23 and closed Oct. 31 at 224¾; Union Carbon & Carbide from 178⅛ Oct. 9 to 202 Oct. 25 with the close Oct. 31 at 189; Murray Corp. from 94½ Oct. 2 to 124¼ Oct. 20, closing Oct. 31 at 110⅝; Warner Bros. Pictures from 106 Oct. 9 to 123 Oct. 31; General Electric from 157⅛ Oct. 9 to 175 Oct. 19, with the close Oct. 31 at 165: American Tel. & Tel. from 176¾ Oct. 9 to 188 Oct. 30, closing Oct. 31 at 182¾; Commercial Solvents from 201 Oct. 3 to 225¾ Oct. 23 with the close Oct. 31 at 213.

U. S. Steel played a prominent part in the speculation, the same as previously, and reached a new high for the year Oct. 24 at 166½, this being an advance from 156 Oct. 3 with the close Oct. 31 at 159⅞. Bethlehem Steel advanced from 63⅝ Oct. 2 to 72½ Oct. 15, with the close Oct. 31 at 66; Inland Steel rose from 66⅛ Oct. 9 to 74½ Oct. 17, with the close Oct. 31 at 71; and Ludlum Steel from 69⅜ Oct. 1 to 85⅝ Oct. 25, with the close Oct. 31 at 82. The oil stocks became rather prominent the latter part of the month, and Atlantic Refining on news of a split-up of shares on a basis of 4 to 1, jumped from 178 Oct. 3 to 238¾ Oct. 25, with the close Oct. 31 at 220¼. A large number of the oil stocks recorded new high figures for the year, the list including, among others, Sinclair Consolidated Oil, Skelly Oil, Shell Union Oil, Pure Oil, Phillips Petroleum, White Eagle Oil, Tidewater Oil, Superior Oil, Sun Oil, Mid-Continent Petroleum, Beacon Oil and Barnsdall Corporation class A. In the motor group, Chrysler was very active and reached 140½ Oct. 6 against 54¾ the previous Jan. 16, but closed Oct. 31 at 124; Studebaker reached 87½ Oct. 19, a new high for the year, but closed Oct. 31 at 75⅝. Some of the rubber stocks showed new signs of life, and B. F. Goodrich advanced from 85¼ Oct. 1 to 89½ Oct. 13, but then dropped to 78¾ Oct. 31; Goodyear Tire & Rubber sold up from 69⅛ Oct. 3 to 98⅞ Oct. 13, but closed Oct. 31 at 81¼ ex-rights worth 7½@8.

In the railroad list the changes were not very pronounced except that a number of stocks in the Southwest advanced to new high figures for the year, the list including Texas & Pacific, St. Louis Southwestern, Kansas City Southern and Rock Island. Kansas City Southern spurted upward on news of the profit realized from the sale of the company's holdings of St. Louis Southwestern. President Loree of the former company announced that the Missouri-Kansas-Texas had been released from its obligation to purchase the St. Louis Southwestern stock and that the plan for the amalgamation of the three roads mentioned had been abandoned. The bond market showed growing firmness both for the high grade issues and the second grade issues, though the advances were not large. Bonds with convertible features, especially in the case of the copper companies, enjoyed further striking advances in most cases.

THE MONEY MARKET DURING OCTOBER 1928.

Stringency still characterized the course of the money market during October, though with some easing of rates the latter part of the month, at least in the case of the rates for time loans on security collateral. The significance, however, of the slightly lower rates for time loans was lessened by a marked disinclination on the part of banking institutions to engage in making time loans at all, for the two-fold reason that in view of the urgent demand for call loans on the Stock Exchange, the banks preferred to make loans subject to recall from day to day and that under the laws of New York State it is illegal to charge more than 6% per annum, anything higher than that being branded as usurious and illegal. There was really no modification of underlying conditions in the money market. Gold exports no longer were of consequence and were replaced by moderate gold importations. But Stock Exchange speculation continued to absorb an increasing amount of bank credit and at the same time it was the autumn season when the normal demand for bank credit, in behalf of mercantile needs and to finance the movement of the crops to market, ordinarily expands. The United States Treasury, as noted above, was in the market with an offering of eleven months' Treasury certificates of indebtedness, bearing the high rate of 4¾% interest for a total of $300,000,000 "or thereabouts" and whatever the primary influence of this offering, the effect the last half of the month was to ease somewhat the extreme tension in money rates, this being due to the fact that the proceeds of the subscriptions to the new Treasury certificates were left on deposit with the banks, Government deposits as a result increasing heavily. As far as Stock Exchange borrowing was concerned, the Stock Exchange statement issued after the close of business on Tuesday, Oct. 2, and showing an increase in brokers' loans during September in the large amount of $462,202,280, attracted unusual attention, since the increase was far in excess of what anyone had supposed it would be and also far in excess of the increase indicated by the weekly returns of the Federal Reserve Bank, which are not on quite so comprehensive a basis as the Stock Exchange compilations. It cannot be said, however, that this new revelation as to the growth in Stock Exchange borrowing acted to curb Stock Exchange borrowing, for the Stock Exchange statement for the month of October, issued after the close of the month, recorded a further expansion for that month in the large sum of $366,081,377.

In the call loan branch of the market there virtually was no easing in the high rates prevailing. The Stock Exchange rate at no time fell below 6% and at the beginning of the month ruled as high as 10%, and again in the middle of the month, that is, on Oct. 15, when Treasury financing may be said to have played its part in stiffening quotations, the rate touched 8% again, after there had been a drop from 10% on Oct. 1 (in connection with the large 1st of October payments and disbursements) to 6% Oct. 5 and the rate had remained at 6½% for about 10 days; on Thursday, Oct. 25, and Friday, Oct. 26, there was a renewed spurt to 8% after the rate had got down to 6% on Oct. 23, while on Oct. 29 the rate again rose to 8% in connection with the preparations made for the 1st of November payments, the rate then dropping to 7½% on Oct. 30 and Oct. 31. The renewal charge was 7% Oct. 1, 8% Oct. 2 and Oct. 3, 7½% Oct. 4, 7% Oct. 5, then 6½% each day until Oct. 16, when the rate advanced to 7½%, and so continued Oct. 17, followed by a reduction to 7% on Oct. 18, to 6½% Oct. 19, a further reduction to 6% Oct. 23 and Oct. 24, after which the rate was once more marked up to 6½% Oct. 25 and to 7½% Oct. 26, which remained the renewal charge the rest of the month.

The time loan rate on stock and bond collateral receded somewhat, as already stated, from the extreme figures recorded the preceding month, but with relatively little money available in that way for the reasons already given. Up to and including Oct. 11 (Friday, Oct. 12, being Columbus Day and a holiday and Oct. 13 being Saturday when no loaning is ever done on the Stock Exchange), the time loan rate remained at 7¼% for 30, 60 and 90 day periods, while the figure for 4, 5 and 6 months maturities continued at 7%. On Monday, Oct. 15, the quotation for the 30, 60 and 90 day periods was reduced from 7¼% to 7%, while the figure for 4, 5 and 6 months maturities was left unchanged at 7%. On Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 16, the rate for the longer maturities was reduced to 6⅞%@7%, and on Friday morning it was further reduced to 6¾@7%, the rate for the shorter maturities still ruling at 7%. There was no further change until Oct. 24 when the range became uniformly 6¾@7% for all dates of maturity, and so continued the rest of the month except that the rate for 30, 60 and 90 days on Oct. 29 and Oct. 30 became straight 7% and on Oct. 31 was 6⅞@7%. Quotations for commercial paper after showing rising tendencies the early part of the month later likewise softened, though as a matter of fact, there was little inquiry for paper at any time and transactions were very light. In the first week of the month, the rate for names of choice character maturing in 4 to 6 months moved up to 5½@5¾%, with the bulk of the business transacted at the latter figure and with 90 day names of strong character selling at 5¼%; for names less well-known the quotation was 6%. The rate for New England mill paper was 5½@5¾%. The hardening tendency continued the next week. The prevailing rate for choice names remained at 5½@5¾%, but with no more transactions at 5¼%. For names less well-known, the quotation was 5¾@6% and for New England mill paper 5¾%. The latter half of the month there developed the softening tendency already noted, but with little being done in paper as a matter of fact. The rate for choice names was at first reduced to 5½%, with only an occasional transaction at 5¾%, and with exceptional names going at 5¼%, and then was reduced to 5¼@5½% with the shorter choice names going at the lower figure; the rate for names less well-known and for New England paper declined to 5½@5¾%.

There was no deviation during the month in the rates for banks and bankers' acceptances, until Oct. 30, when the rate for 150-day bills and for 180 days was marked down ⅛. With this change, the posted rates Oct. 31 of the American Acceptance Council for prime bankers' acceptances eligible for purchase by the Federal Reserve Banks were 4⅝% bid and 4½% asked for bills running 30 days and also for 60 and 90 days; 4¾% bid and 4⅝% asked for 120 days, and 4⅞% bid and 4¾% asked for 150 and 180 days. The Acceptance Council made no change throughout the whole month in the posted rate for call loans against acceptances, this remaining at 5½%.

No change was made during October in the rediscount rates of any of the Federal Reserve Banks. Nor were there any suggestions of change. The Federal Reserve Banks in the agricultural regions, namely, the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis, the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City, the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, and the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco, continued their rate of 4½% for all classes of paper, while the eight other Reserve banks retained the 5% rate.

THE RETURNS OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE AND MEMBER BANKS—BROKERS' LOANS.

The expansion in brokers' loans on Stock Exchange collateral continued unchecked and new high records in all time were established week after week during October. The total, according to the Federal Reserve returns, after having increased uninterruptedly week by week for the six weeks ended Oct. 3, increased still further in each of the four weeks following, making ten consecutive weeks of increases during which the grand aggregate of these loans to brokers and dealers (secured by stocks and bonds) by the 45 reporting member banks in New York City, ran up from $4,201,131,000 Aug. 22 to $4,907,164,000 Oct. 31, being an addition for the ten weeks of $706,033,000. The continued expansion attracted wide attention everywhere and was the subject of discussion at the annual convention of the American Bankers Association in Philadelphia at the beginning of the month as already noted above. The Convention also adopted some inconclusive resolutions for dealing with the matter. The resolutions were directed mainly against the practice of large depositors, corporate and individual, in insisting that the banks loan their deposits out for account of the depositors themselves in order that such depositors might get the benefit of the high rates of interest ruling there, rather than the advantage accruing to the banks themselves. The member banks of the Federal Reserve system, in making returns of their collateral loans to the Federal Reserve authorities, classify these loans, as has many times been pointed out in these columns, under three different heads, namely: (1) the loans which the 45 reporting member banks in New York City make for their own account; (2) the loans made by them for account of out-of-town banks, and (3) for account of others. It is this latter class of loans that has risen with greatest rapidity as would be expected to be the case with call loan rates ruling at such extremely high figures and so far above the rate of interest allowed by the banks on deposits, where these deposits are not loaned out for account of the depositors themselves. During October, as it happened, increases occurred in each of the three divisions. The loans for own account after fluctuating from week to week were $1,020,710,000 Oct. 31, against $849,506,000 Sept. 26; the loans for account of out-of-town banks rose from $1,673,943,000 Sept. 26 to $1,732,177,000 Oct. 31, while the loans for account of others passed way above the two billion dollar mark, being reported $2,154,277,000 Oct. 31 against $2,001,259,000 Sept. 26. At $2,154,277,000 Oct. 31 1928, comparison of these loans for account of others is with only $971,475,000 Oct. 26 1927, and similarly, the loans for account of out-of-town banks at $1,732,177,000 compares with $1,324,068,000, while the loans made by the 45 reporting member banks for their own account at $1,020,710,000 compares with $1,048,234,000—from which it appears that more and more the deposits of the banks consist of such as the banks are under obligation to loan out for account of outside institutions and for account of others rather than for their own account. In these circumstances, the fact that the banks are loaning less than a year ago on their own account apparently signifies nothing except that they have less to loan out in that way. At $4,907,164,000 Oct. 31 1928, the grand total of all brokers' loans compares with only $3,371,705,000 Nov. 2 1927, showing an addition for the 12 months in the prodigious sum of $1,535,459,000.

The monthly figures of the New York Stock Exchange regarding these brokers' loans tell the same story as the weekly figures of the Federal Reserve Board, only that they deal with much larger figures, the Stock Exchange figures being, as previously pointed out, more inclusive, making the result correspondingly more comprehensive. The Stock Exchange total is getting close to the six billion dollar mark, the "total net loans by New York Stock Exchange members on collateral contracted for and carried in New York" as of the close of business Oct. 31, being reported at $5,879,721,062 as against $5,513,639,685 on Sept. 30, $5,051,437,405 Aug. 31, and $4,837,347,579 July 31. In other words, there was further expansion in this class of borrowing during October in amount of $366,081,377 on top of $462,202,280 expansion during September and $214,089,826 in August, making the increase for the three months no less than $1,042,373,483. At $5.879,721,062 Oct. 31 1928, comparison is with $3,946,137,374 on Oct. 31 1927, and $3,111,176,925 Oct. 31 1926. In other words, in the two years this class of borrowing has risen $2,768,544,137, the total in fact during the two years having almost doubled. It is worth noting as indicating the disinclination of banking institutions to engage in making loans on time, that the time loan portion of these brokers' loans has been rapidly diminishing in recent months, the amount for Oct. 31 being down to $763,993,528 against $1,203,587,250 on May 31 1928.

The feature of the returns of the Federal Reserve Banks themselves during October was the diminution in member bank borrowing as represented by the discount holdings of the Reserve institutions. This diminution, however, was attended by a large increase in the holdings of acceptances purchased in the open market. With the Federal Reserve institutions buying acceptances so freely, there was obviously correspondingly less occasion for member bank borrowing at the Reserve institutions. Thus the two movements are related. The discount holdings of the twelve Reserve institutions, after rising from $1,010,766,000 Sept. 26 to $1,025,918,000 Oct. 3, gradually diminished thereafter and were $911,927,000 Oct. 24 but $932,271,000 Oct. 31. The acceptance holdings on the other hand, kept rapidly increasing, rising from $263,419,000 Sept. 26 to $440,376,000 Oct. 31. The Reserve system's holdings of Government bonds also at first increased but were slightly lower Oct. 31 at $227,099,000 against $229,032,000 Sept. 26. As a consequence, the aggregate of Reserve credit employed, as represented by total bill and security holdings, failed to show contraction notwithstanding the diminished borrowing of the member banks. The total of the bill and security holdings Oct. 31 1928 was $1,603,476,000 against $1,507,797,000 Sept. 26. Thus the Reserve institutions pursued the same policy as they did in the autumn of 1927 in thrusting out Reserve credit and thus adding to the funds available, except that the present year they purchased acceptances rather than Government securities. As showing how far the process has been carried, the holdings of acceptances Oct. 31 at $440,376,000 compare with only $161,847,000 on Aug. 8, being an addition of $278,529,000, and the holdings of Government securities at $227,099,000 compare with $207,868,000, being a further addition of $19,231,000, making a combined addition of $297,760,000. A very large part of the addition occurred here in New York, the speculative center, the acceptance holdings at the New York Reserve Bank Oct. 31 being $138,196,000 as against $32,170,000 Aug. 8, and the holdings of Government securities $47,327,000 as against $28,501,000, making a combined increase in the two items at New York of $124,852,000.

Another aid in diminishing member bank borrowing at the Reserve institutions, at least during the latter part of the month, in addition to the liberal purchases of acceptances by the Reserve institutions, was the increase in Government deposits with the member banks, the increase representing the proceeds of the new issue of Treasury certificates alloted to a total of $308,807,500. Between Sept. 12 and Sept. 19, Government deposits of the 635 reporting member banks increased from $66,940,000 to $206,560,000 as a result of the income tax collection and the sale of a new issue of Treasury certificates of indebtedness. During the early part of October, these Government deposits with the member banks were again rapidly drawn down, they falling to $64,934,000 Oct. 10, but this in turn was followed by a renewed increase to $190,431,000 Oct. 17, being an addition for this single week alone of $125,497,000, but followed by a decrease again to $141,523,000 Oct. 24 and to $134,733,000 Oct. 31. The amount of Federal Reserve notes in circulation increased from $1,681,581,000 Sept. 26 to $1,725,212,000 Oct. 10, then fell to $1,709,816,000 Oct. 31. Gold holdings of the 12 Reserve institutions after declining from $2,633,002,000 Sept. 26 to $2,616,635,000 Oct. 3, increased thereafter and were $2,646,230,000 Oct. 24 and $2,641,096,000 Oct. 31.

COURSE OF STERLING EXCHANGE DURING OCTOBER.

Sterling exchange remained under pressure during October and about the only new development was fractionally higher rates for mercantile bills in the London money market, reducing the margin between money rates in Great Britain and in America, though still leaving that margin, which constitutes a factor in the transfer of funds from London to New York, still large. The influences adverse to exchange on London remained the same as before, namely, the seasonal pressure on exchange arising out of the large offerings of bills against heavy importations of cotton and grain into Great Britain, co-incident with the cessation of tourist demand for bills which earlier in the season were an important factor—the whole accentuated by the difference between money rates in London and those prevailing in New York. On Oct. 4 cable transfers on London sold down to $4.84 25/32, a new low point for the year. But shortly thereafter, exchange on London stiffened and there was a recovery, so that on Oct. 10 and Oct. 11 as high as 4.85¼ was obtained for cable transfers. It was felt, however, at the time, that the upward reaction was merely temporary, and this proved to be the case. It was pointed out that very little was required to bring about either slight upward movements or slight movements downward. On the one hand there was a constant seasonal pressure of bills and on the other hand only a moderate increase in demand was sure to bring about recovery, inasmuch as New York and other markets had been bearish for several months, while banking institutions had kept their London balances as low as possible. Cable transfers after the recovery to 4.85¼, gradually but persistently moved lower again until on October 27 the rate was back to 4.84⅞@ 4.84 15/16, which remained the range on each day thereafter until the end of the month. This permitted further engagements of gold abroad for importation into the United States, though these engagements were held down to a minimum by a reluctance on the part of banking institutions from doing what both the Bank of England and our Federal Reserve banks appeared to regard with disfavor. Nevertheless, a number of such engagements occurred. On Oct. 2, cable dispatches reached New York to the effect that Goldman, Sachs & Co. had purchased £500,000 gold for import to New York. On Oct. 5 the American Exchange Irving Trust Co. announced that it had arranged for the importation of £1,000,000 in gold bars from London. Both these importations arrived here later in the month. On Oct. 10 it was announced that £600,000 had been taken for New York, having been purchased for account of Kuhn Loeb & Co. On Oct. 25, the National Park Bank of New York announced that it had made arrangements to import $2,000,000 gold from England. On Oct. 31 Speyer & Co. announced the purchase of $2,500,000 gold from the Bank of England for shipment to New York. The gold holdings of the Bank of England suffered heavy further reduction during the month, the Bank's return for the week ended Oct. 3 showing a loss in gold of £4,978,079, the return for Oct. 10 a loss of £725,495, the return for Oct. 17 a loss of £353,859, the return for Oct. 24 a loss of £410,429, and the return for Oct. 31 a further loss of £1,817,118 Canadian exchange at New York ruled at a discount most of the month, this being contrary to the usual course at this period of the year when Canadian exchange here is usually at a premium by reason of the large Dominion wheat exports which ordinarily have the effect of causing a considerable outflow of gold from New York to the Dominion. The weakness in Canadian exchange, with the resulting absence of gold shipments to the Dominion, was due altogether to the large investment of Canadian funds in the New York collateral loan market. The Federal Reserve Bank of New York estimated the actual imports of gold at New York during the month at $11,698,000, of which $1,000,000 came from Argentine and the rest mainly from Great Britain.

THE CONTINENTAL AND OTHER FOREIGN EXCHANGES.

Exchange at New York on the Continental centers of Europe was not marked by any features of great consequence. Dullness was the main characteristic. French exchange was somewhat weaker, checks on Paris Oct. 31 ranging from 3.90⅜ to 3.90½, against 3.90¾@3.90⅞c. on Oct. 1, but the Bank of France holds such control of the foreign exchange and the French money markets that movements in the franc rate are without significance. The policy of the Bank has been to maintain the rate at whatever level is deemed necessary in order to protect its gold holdings from transfers abroad, especially to Germany. The Bank continued to increase its foreign credits and also to add to its gold holding, the additions coming mainly through purchases from the public of pre-war gold coins previously hoarded and now demonetized as part of the program for revaluing the franc. For the week ended Oct. 6 the Bank showed an increase in its gold holdings of 46,404,673 fr.; for the week ended Oct. 13 of 46,235,621 fr.; for the week ended Oct. 20 36,172,089 fr., and for the week to Oct. 27 an increase of 34,000,000 fr. The Bank's credit balances abroad increased 597,079,060 fr. the first week of the month, 547,287,061 fr. the second week, 255,951,472 fr. the third week, with a decrease of 109,000,000 fr. the week ended Oct. 27. Note circulation, which previously had increased heavily, was reduced 47,000,000 fr. the first week, 585,000,000 fr. the second week, 581,000,000 fr. the third week and 113,000,000 fr. the week ended Oct. 27. German exchange fluctuated somewhat irregularly, checks on Berlin first declining from 23.83½ Oct. 1 to 23.79 Oct. 4 and then rapidly recovering to 23.82½ Oct. 27 and with the range Oct. 31 23.80@23.82. The decline the early part of the month was then the outstanding feature; although German interests purchased most of the gold available in London at the beginning of the month, the decline which then came was believed to preclude further takings of the metal for the time being. The German purchases occasioned a great deal of criticism in the London market and it was believed that the Reichsbank brought about a reduction in the sterling mark rate to comply with the known wishes of the Bank of England that the gold export movement from London to Berlin be checked. The New York rate on Berlin naturally followed the London rate. Bankers professed to see more than a coincidence in the fact that the decline in marks followed immediately after a hurried visit of President Schacht of the Reichsbank to London. Gold purchases, however, for German account, were resumed later in the month. The gold holdings of the Bank of Germany increased 60,169,000 marks the first week of the month, 21,531,000 mks. the second week, 2,039,000 mks. the third week and 22,105,000 mks. the last week. The note circulation of the Bank decreased 238,062,000 mks. the first week, 298,243,000 mks. the second week, 259,100,000 the third week, with the usual large increase the last week in preparation for the first of the next month's payment the increase this time being 637,286,000 mks.

The Italian lira fluctuated within a narrow compass. Lire continued, however, in demand, the firmness being due to the steady improvement in economic conditions in Italy. Though tourist transfers practically ceased, the loss on that account was offset by a steady flow of immigrant remittances from this side to Italy. Constant accession of strength also results from the investment of American and other funds in the Italian security markets. Checks on Italy were 5.23½@5.23⅝ on Oct. 31 against 5.22 7/16@5.22⅝ Oct. 1. The fluctuations in Greek exchange were unimportant. The Polish zloty moved lower and was quoted at 11.19 Oct. 31 against 11.25, the rate which had ruled so long in previous months.

The exchanges on the countries neutral during the war continued dull, with rates fractionally lower as a rule, in sympathy with the weakness in sterling exchange, and with a further sharp break in the Spanish peseta. The Dutch guilder was perhaps under greatest pressure, but this was largely a seasonal matter arising from the accumulation of grain and cotton bills in Holland, though in addition there was pressure also from the transfer of funds from Amsterdam to London and to Berlin and doubtless also to some extent to New York, owing to the attractive opportunities for the employment of funds at this center. Checks on Amsterdam declined from 40.10 Oct. 1 to 40.05½ Oct. 15, and were 40.06¾@40.09 Oct. 31. Swiss francs were quoted at 19.23¾@19.24¼ Oct. 31, and at 19.24@19.24½ Oct. 1. As to the Scandinavian exchanges, they were also slightly lower, with quite a marked decline the latter part of the month in the Swedish krone. Sweden nevertheless imported gold from London and was regarded as one of the "unknown buyers" in London. The gold for Sweden is taken by the Riksbank as the import of gold into Sweden is permitted only to the Riksbank. The object of this restriction is to prevent a repetition of the experience during the war when Sweden was flooded with gold. Checks on Sweden Oct. 31 were 26.71½@26.72 against 26.74½@26.75 Oct. 1. Checks on Denmark 26.65 Oct. 31 against 26.65@26.65½ Oct. 1, and checks on Norway 26.64½@26.65 Oct. 31 against 26.65@26.65½ Oct. 1. The Spanish peseta kept violently declining, tumbling from 16.41 Oct. 1 to 16.08 Oct. 23 for checks and being 16.11@16.13 Oct. 31. The reason for the weakness in Spanish exchange was not understood, in view of the organization of the consortium sometime previously to support the peseta against speculative attacks. London seemed to be as completely mystified as New York. Traders here stated that most of the recent pressure on pesetas had come from speculative selling. European markets appeared to have taken the lead in the movement, but many New York operators, it seems, participated. It is pointed out that as the official committee in charge of the control of the peseta market conducts its operations chiefly in Europe, a favored practice of some European speculators has been to sell in New York after the London market has closed. The persistently downward trend and apparent failure of the control committee to prevent wide fluctuations appears to have stimulated speculative selling.

There were no changes of great consequence in the rates of exchange on South America. The peso on Argentina was 42.10@42.19 Oct. 31, against 42.05@42 1/16 Oct. 1. It will be recalled that it was reported in September that the Argentine Government would ship $12,500,000 in gold to the United States to pay a maturing short-term loan in this country. Some doubt, however, developed as to whether the whole amount of this gold would be shipped in view of the strong inclination existing against letting any considerable amonut of gold go out of the country. Only $100,000 gold arrived here during the month from Argentine. The Brazilian milreis for checks was quoted at 11.92@11.94 Oct. 31 against 11.90@11.94 Oct. 1, and the Chilean peso at 12 1/16 Oct. 31 against 12 1/16@12⅛ Oct. 1. A $25,000,000 loan on behalf of the Republic of Peru was floated here during the month, but the Peruvian libra remained unchanged throughout at 3.99. The Uruguayan peso, after moving up from 98.00@ 101⅞ Oct. 1 to 101.90@102 Oct. 10, dropped back again and was 98.00@102 Oct. 31.

In the exchanges on the Far East the feature was the rise in Japanese yen. At the beginning of the month the yen still showed weakness, checks on Yokohama declining from 45.72 Oct. 1 to 45.55 Oct. 4, but thereafter there was rapid advance and on Oct. 26 the quotation was 47.40; on Oct. 31 the range was 46.49@46.65. The advance was attributed to the greatly improved outlook in China and to the prospects of much greater co-operation between Chinese and Japanese interests. An important factor in the improvement in yen was considered to be the steadily advancing position of China. Every forward step in economic condition in China is obviously of benefit to Japanese foreign trade. One development of the month in connection with China was the announcement that Prof. E. W. Kemmerer had been invited by the Nanking Government to form a commission to reform the banking system of China and stabilize its currency. The Chinese exchanges were also firmer, notwithstanding that no great improvement occurred in the price of silver. The tael on Shanghai was 64¼@64 5/16 on Oct. 31 against 63 15/16 on Oct. 1. Hong-Kong dollars were 50.20@50¼ Oct. 31 against 50.00 Oct. 1. Rupees on Bombay also moved higher again, the quotation Oct. 31 being 36.45@36½ against 36.37@36.45 Oct. 1. The price of silver in London was 26¾d. per ounce Oct. 31 against 26 9/16d. Saturday, Sept. 29.

The tables on pages 13 to 34 furnish a complete record of the transactions on the New York Stock Exchange during October and since Jan. 1 1928. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. The black-faced letters in the column headed "Interest Period" indicate in each case the month when the bonds mature.

In accordance with the rule adopted by the New York Stock Exchange in 1909, all quotations for interest-paying bonds are at a price to which accrued interest must be added. The exceptions to the rule are income bonds and bonds on which interest is in default. A few other bonds, like the Holland-American Line 6s, for special reasons, are also quoted "flat," but where this is the case the quotation "flat" will be found against the name of the issue. This method of quoting bonds became effective Jan. 2 1909.

For footnotes to tables see last page of bonds and last page of stocks.

General Quotations

OF BONDS AND STOCKS

In the earlier part of this publication complete records of the dealings on the leading stock exchanges of the country, for the latest month and for the calendar year to date, are furnished. In this department of General Quotations we combine in one comprehensive whole, securities of all classes and descriptions, not only those dealt in on the exchanges but also leading unlisted and inactive securities. The following is an index to the different classes of securities quoted:

	Page		Page		Page
Steam Railroad Bonds	63	Public Utility Bonds	69	Insurance Stocks and Scrip	80
Steam Railroad Stocks	67	Public Utility Stocks	75	Real Estate Trust and Land Stocks	81
Joint Stock Land Bank Bonds	68	Industrial & Miscellaneous Bonds	77	Title Guarantee and Safe Deposit Stocks	81
Joint Stock Land Bank Stocks	68	Industrial & Miscellaneous Stocks	81	United States and Municipal Bonds	85
Federal Land Bank Bonds	85	Exchange Seats	79	Canadian Municipal Bonds	86
Real Estate Bonds	79	Textile Manufacturing Stocks	80	Foreign Government Bonds	86
Investment Trust Stocks and Bonds	68	Mining Stocks	80

Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue. As the New York Stock Exchange began with Jan. 2 1909 to quote all bond prices "and interest," we have adopted the same method and no longer employ a designating mark to indicate the fact except where there is a deviation from this rule. The reader will understand, therefore, that unless the letter "f" is prefixed to the price, he must pay accrued interest in addition to the price. This, however, does not apply to income bonds or bonds in default, in which cases the price includes the interest, should there be any.

The letter "f" prefixed to bond prices denotes that the quotation is a flat price—that is, that the accrued interest forms part of the price, and therefore the purchaser does not have to provide for it separately in making payment. As already stated in the case of income bonds and bonds in default, the price is always "flat," and no designating mark is employed to indicate the fact.

Quotations for guaranteed stocks are "and dividend"; that is, the accrued dividend must be paid in addition to the price. Stock prices marked thus (d) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices, which are quoted per share unless otherwise stated.

It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

The following abbreviations are often used, viz.: "M" for mortgage, "g" for gold, "gu" for guaranteed, "end" for endorsed, "cons" for consolidated 'conv" for convertible, "s f" for sinking fund, "l g" for land grant, "op" for optional.

The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest period indicates the month when the bonds mature.

NOTICE.—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities

Under the heading "Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities" we include all issues which do not appear under the previous two headings, namely "Railroads (Steam)" and "Public Utilities." In the case of stocks, however, we put "Textile Manufacturing," "Insurance," "Mining," "Real Estate and Land," "Title Guarantee and Safe Deposit Companies" under separate heads, then follow with the rest of the "Industrial and Miscellaneous."

NOTICE.—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

United States and Municipal Bonds

In reporting below prices for State and municipal securities, we give bid and asked quotations wherever they can be obtained. The custom, however, is to quote municipal securities on the basis of the return they yield per annum. Therefore in most cases it will be found that instead of actual prices we have inserted in the column headed "To Net" certain figures to indicate the interest rate at which business in the bonds is being done. Thus 4.35% means that the particular security can be bought or sold at a price that will yield the purchaser or seller 4.35% per annum to the maturity of the issue. Where two figures appear, as for instance "4.25% to 4.35%," the rate of return varies according to the maturity—the shorter maturities yielding the lowest rate, and the longer maturities yielding the highest return. Recently however, owing to the tension in the money market, it has happened in not a few instances that the shorter maturities have been yielding the highest rate of return and the longer maturities the lowest rate of return, and where that happens to be the case, the range has been reversed to read, say 4.35% to 4.25%.

In State and municipal bonds the custom has always been to quote them "and interest." That is, the accrued interest must in all cases be added on. There are a very few which form exceptions to the rule—that is, where the prices given are flat prices, the accrued interest having been taken into account in making them. These are indicated by a special mark, thus (f).

STATE AND NATIONAL BANK STATEMENTS

Quotations in this department are given per share, not per cent, except for stocks of Canadian Institutions, and are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding date of issue, though often are nominal. An asterisk (*) denotes sales.

Figures of deposits, capital and profits for the national banks are from the Comptroller's last call; for all other institutions they are the latest obtainable, direct returns being procured by us where no periodic statements are required. For the Clearing House banks of New York, Philadelphia and Boston, deposits are taken from the latest-weekly statement.
